The counsel in the case of Morton and Porter, moved for a new trial. The court stated that the circumstances and evidence in the case was so conclusive as to the guilt of the defendants, that the motion for a new trial would not be entertained by the court. The court made some appropriate remarks to the defendants, as to the inevitable punishment of a life of crime, and advised them to adopt a different one when they shall have atoned for the crime for which the jury had found them guilty. The river is falling slowly with 18 inches on the Shoals. DESTRUCTION OF OYSTERS .- According to the New Orleans True Delta, the recent floods proved destructive to the oysters. It appears, says that paper, that owing to the extraordinary quantities of fresh water which have been discharged during this summer from the overflowing banks and crevasses of the river into the sea along the Gulf shore, between the mouths of the Mussissippi and the coast of Texas, all the oysters in this great nursery of their own interest if before purchasing they the delicious fish have been destroyed! All dead! At first, as we learn, the unusually large admixture of fresh with salt water, had the effect of making the oysters unuaturally large and fat, but inspid, if not disagreeable to the taste. Continuing to grow under the same influences, they at length became too large for the shells, and pressed them open. Mud and sand being thus admitted, they died; style Screw Pintes which will be sold at acand separated from the shells, came to the surface. We learn that millions of oysters are floa ing in this way on the surface of the paired at little expense. Terms cash only. waters along the sea coast. But for the myriads of guils that have collected and are revelling in the unexpected feast, the quantity of oysters thus destroyed would have been sufficiently great to poison the atmosphere of an extensive region, and might have created

> > The Dry Goods Trade.

NEW YORK, Friday, Aug. 6. Trade in Dry Goods this week, shows a general improvement. There is a better demand from both obbers and out of town buyers. But the time has arrived when there should be an active demand which can hardly be said to exist now, and the argregate of trade is largely below the average of seaons. The practical shortening of credits; consequent upon the strict adherence to six or eight months at the longest, still has its effect; but the sacrifice of goods, which was so extensively gone into late last eason, and in the spring, is also exerting a great influence upon trade. Admitting that to a considerable extent these goods have passed into consumption, their influence upon buyers still remains. There is a constant looking about for "bargains," on the supposition, probably, that they may be found now as well as six months ago. Doubtless they may be, sometimes; but they are not frequent, and the advantages to be realized from them are much curtailed. The momentary effect upon those who insist on a fair profit for their goods, is, however, obvious; but having full confidence in the final result, holders do not show the slightest disposition to give way in either price or terms of sale; and with delay, the probabilities of a "rush" for goods become stronger, in which case those who show so much reluctance to pay remuerative prices to importers and manufacturers, such as are now asked, may find themselves under the necessity of meeting a considerable advance. BROWN SHEETING AND SHIRTINGS-At some disount from our quoted prices, a large export move-814@514c. Our quotations for the Atlantic Milis are evised this week (inadvertently omitted in our last eport,) on the basis of six months at the above-nam-

DRILLS-A large business has also been done in Brown Drills-the sales including 700 cases in this narket for China-understood to be at 8 1/4c. for full Bank of Nashville, 10c dis State Bank. BLEACHED COTTONS-Are quite at full prices-the Atlantic Mills have brought out a much-needed article a 29% inch fabric, at 6c 6 mos.

PKINTING CLOTHS—There has been more done, but holders have been unable to realize any advance on life transactions. The swes include 8,000 pcs 64x 64, at 5 ½ and 5,000 pcs 56x 0, 5 ½c. We hear of sales in Providence to a Philadelphian printer, at 55 c PRINTS—There is a pause in the demand for regular styles as quoted; some new things, brought out this week, absorbing much attention. Among these are Robes a Omlie from the American Mills, which are pretty good—not, however, it appears to us, calculated for this latitude. A plaid (double printing) brought out by Garner & Co. to-day, at 11 cents, splended thing. Somewhat similar goods at H \( \) cents from the Donnell Mills, are in style quite unequalized by anything we have seen. The Chintz Prints, from the Cocheco Works, are beautiful. Kennie has brought out (Storgis, Shaw & Co.) a fine check effect at 9 % will take place at Havana, on 10 cents, which comprises an attractive variety; in these goods the white "cross over" is printed on.

STRIPES AND DENIMS-Have been more active at

BUCK — Meets with an improving demand.
GINGHAMS AND MOUSLIN DE LAINES, of the fall styles, are in much favor, and go off readily, the former at 16,611% cents, and the latter at 18,620 SHAWLS-It is now stated that the intention of seldoned, but that they will be urged upon the market doned, but that they will be graed upon the market at private sales. The trade generally in these fabrics is consequently depressed, and it being yet early in the season, there is little movement in other makes, if we except the new and beautiful Jacquard and Mantilla Shawis from the Waterloo Mills, with Messrs, Amy Pattusen & Co—(aiready noticed.) The only new thing brought out this week is from a Jersey Mill (no like its with few Harrange & Co. tickets,) with Low, Harrianni & Co. CASSIMERES, DOESKINS, and UNION CLOTHS—Are in better demand, both from jobbers and large ciothiers, but prices show a further concession to buyers, in all grades. The Blackinton fine Union Cloths, with in all grades. The Blackinton line Union Cloths, with all wool side bands, (Lawrence, Woodward & Co.) have sold at $7 \cdot_C$, by the package, but this price is only sustained by the improved quality, which is now superb. The goods which were brought out earlier are jobbing lower—say $2 \cdot_C$. Lower grades are selling well at $60\mathbb{E}$/foc. including the Faconic Mills, with Smythe, Evitt & Cooper, at the latter price. The Pittsücki goods, with the same house, are moving at $50. A line of Doesams from the Burlington Mills (with F. Skinner & Co.) is brought out in improved style at $50\mathbb{E}$/foc. and Vassalboro's Black Cassimeres with the same house, meet a fair demand at $2\cdot_C$, and upward. upward.
SATINETS continue dull. BLANKETS are quiet—the sales are rather below last fall's prices, but the reduced cost makes the returns more satisfactory to

WOOLEN SKIRTS, DRAWERS, HOSIERY, &c .- Are POREIGN GOODS.

The improvement in Foreign Goods is more decided even than in Domestic,—the demand extending into nearly every description of goods. Holders feel the greatest confidence. The importation this week is very large, comparatively, being larger than in the corresponding week of 1856 or 1857, and three times as large, as the average weekly importation since the first of January last, but the goods are all needed, and we notice by request, complaints against the Conard Steamship Company of unnecessary delay in the delivery of Sample Cards. Those by the Persia, which arrived early on Tuosday morning, were not all delivered until this morning. Fancy bress Goods, of all times, were taken quickly, and British Delaines and and other prints sell well. There have been few new British Goods offered until this week, and much of the and other prints sell well. There have been few new British Goods offered until this week, and much of the large importation of this week is of course still opened. The Bayadere style rules in Bress Goods Staple Goods are in better demand—particularly Cashmeces and alpacas. Black Silks are photy, but well held. Goods for Men's Wear are without important movement. Fine Tailoring Goods are in pretty good request.

Mr. J. H. Austen sold, on Wednesday and Thursday a large line of carpaings, for secount of Mossra. Hadden a Co. The attendance was very large, and buyers secome quite disappointed at the spirited bidding with which they were compelled to come it competition.

to. Crossley's Velvets sold at $1.16 @ 57½, and his Brussels at $ @92½ cents; Pardoes, friomans & Par-doe's Velvets $1.0;@1.15, and their Brussels at 80@84 cents. Super Ingram sold at 53@624c. Philadelpnia Ingrain 27@46c. The Ingrains went at about 5 per cent. decline from last season's prices. The Brussels and Velvets at a shade under, but about the same. The spirit and animation evenced at this sale augur well for the auction season, which will open next week with a sale of Domestic Goods, (mestly.) by Witnerdings & Mount, on Wednesday; a package sale of Iometics, principally, by Van Wyck, Townsend & Warrens. Messrs. Witnerdings, Hoguet & Humbert, who have been doing something (not imported) in Furs and Paper Hangings, will also hold their regular opening sale on Wednesday of next week. In Philadelphia, the auction season will be opened on thursday, by
